New Software Expedites
Booking of Meeting Space

Software system creator Dean Evans & Associates, Inc. recently released EMS Legal, a new product for law firm meeting room scheduling and resource management. Incorporating functionality from the company's popular suite of room reservation and Web calendar products, EMS Legal is designed to handle the unique scheduling challenges that law firms face.

EMS Legal's features include the capability to quickly reserve meeting space and track associated client matter numbers, secure Internet access to information on room availability and scheduled meetings, integration with Microsoft Outlook, and data import capability to simplify user account creation and maintenance.

EMS Legal is available now, but will officially debut during the Association of Legal Administrators Annual Educational Conference and Exposition in New Orleans, May 18-21.
